

Denver International Airport Station

This station is proposed at level one on the south side of the terminal. It would include two tracks, two side platforms, one center platform, and an arrival/departure platform. DIA's expansion plans include a new terminal building south of the existing terminal building, additional parking, and a hotel. The East Corridor would connect to this new terminal building.

